Sub: Invitation to participate in the Brainstorming meeting on “Geriatric Nutrition” to be held on 18th July, 2019 in Room no - 503 in the Department of Biotechnology, New Delhi.

Department of Biotechnology supports Public Health Nutrition R & D for the addressal of micronutrient deficiencies, addressal of anemia, severe acute malnutrition, food fortification, probiotics for human health and well-being, etc. Continuing the Departments efforts in Public Health Nutrition, a brainstorming meeting on “Geriatric Nutrition” is being convened to discuss and finalise priority R&D areas. This meeting will be held on 18th July, 2019 in DBT's conference room No. 503 from 10.00 AM- 1 PM onwards. You are being invited as an Expert member to the brainstorming meeting to share your expertise in this area.

Prof. Umesh Kapil, ILBS, New Delhi will be the Lead Discussant for this meeting. Since three parallel Brain storming sessions are being planned in the forenoon of 18th July 2019, each group would make a round table discussion for 1 and half hours. Subsequently the lead discussant would present the gap areas.

Prof. H.P.S Sachdev, Senior Consultant, SBISR, New Delhi would Chair the meeting and Prof.A.V.Kurpad, Professor, St.Johns Bangalore will be the Co-Chair of the meeting. The official memorandum in this regard is enclosed as an attachment file.

TA/DA will be paid to the non-officials for participating in the meeting in accordance with the Govt. of India Rules. I would like to bring to your notice that as per the directives of Ministry of Finance (Department of Expenditure) O.M. dated 13th July, 2009, all cases of air travel where the Govt. of India bears the cost of air passage is to be by Air India only. In this regard, you are requested to please travel by Air India only for attending the above-mentioned Brain Storming meeting.

Please give your confirmation to attend the meeting via return email at the earliest.

With best regards

Sincerely

BAHL, Rajiv <bahlr@who.int>
to me

Dear Geeta,

I am writing to explore your interest and availability in being a member of the Data Safety and Monitoring Board (DSMB) of a WHO-supported study. The title of the study is "Improving Linear Growth of Children in Low Resource Settings through Integrated Nutrition, Health, Psychosocial Care and Support, and WASH Interventions during the Pre- and Peri-conception Period, Pregnancy and Early Childhood - A Randomized Controlled Trial". It is being conducted in Delhi by the Society of Applied Studies.

The DSMB will provide recommendations to WHO/MCA, which is responsible for the oversight and monitoring function for this study. We expect the DSMB to meet at least once in 6 months for the duration of the trial, either face-to-face or electronically. The first meeting will be held in early 2018.

Please let me know if you would be interested and available to participate.

Appreciation of contribution to the UKRI International Development Peer Review College by Dr Geeta Trilok-Kumar

I am writing on behalf of 'UK Research and Innovation' (UKRI), International Development, to make you aware of the contribution to the College and UKRI by Dr Geeta Trilok-Kumar and to express our gratitude for their efforts as College members in the last 12 months.

As you may be aware, the UKRI International Development Peer Review College (<https://www.ukri.org/research/global-challenges-research-fund/ukri-international-development-peer-review-college/>) is central to ensuring the robustness of the decision-making mechanisms of UKRI as regards the Global Challenges Research Fund (GCRF) and the Newton Fund (NF). It is vital that the College operates effectively and efficiently and that it holds the confidence of the international ODA community. College members play a critical role, not only in providing high quality reviews, but also in informing and influencing the current work of UKRI in relation to the Global Challenges Research Fund (GCRF) and the Newton Fund (NF).

We are grateful to our College members for their professionalism, diligence and generosity of their time and effort and are well aware that the support members provide to the work of the Peer Review College is in addition to many other commitments both within and outside their organisation. We therefore recognise and appreciate, all the more, the activities our member have undertaken on behalf of UKRI and thank them for the commitment they have made.

Yours sincerely

Professor Helen Fletcher

Dear Geeta,

Hope this email finds you well.

In response to the growing international demand for high quality empirical evidence of how to leverage the potential of agriculture-food systems to optimize nutrition and health outcomes, Innovative Metrics and Methods for Agriculture and Nutrition Actions (IMMANA), a research partnership funded by UKaid from the UK government, aims to accelerate the development of a robust and coherent scientific evidence base which underpins effective policy and investments in agriculture-food systems for improved nutrition and health.

As part of IMMANA, we provide competitive research grants to research institutions to develop new and improved metrics, tools or methods in the area of agriculture-nutrition research. We are keen that these grants are of the highest quality possible to make a real contribution to this complex and interdisciplinary field. IMMANA aims to award of 15-18 research grants of up to £250,000 to be awarded in two rounds.

We have completed the first round, awarding 7 grants; and we are now in the final and second round, where short-listed candidates have been invited to submit full proposals that are to be reviewed by leading scientific experts such as yourself.

As we are keen that these grants are of the highest scientific quality to make a real contribution to this complex field, we would like to invite you to help us with the second round by peer-reviewing the final proposals. Please find the attached invitation letter.

I hope you will be interested in this programme and willing to help us. IMMANA is a five-year programme, with further funding rounds for postdoctoral IMMANA Fellowships, and the Agriculture, Nutrition and Health\(ANH\) Academy, a global research network to foster international collaboration between researchers and research-users in this field. We organised a highly successful ANH Academy Week which included learning events and an international conference in Addis Ababa from June 20-24, 2016. I also hope you will consider signing up to become an ANH Academy member.

Could you please kindly respond regarding your availability and willingness to serve as a peer reviewer for these end round of IMMANA grant proposals by July 15, 2016?

Kind regards,

Suneetha

Indian Dietetic Association Newsletter

IDA is a member of the International Confederation of Dietetic Associations and the Asian Federation of Dietetic Associations.

From the President's desk

Wishing each and every one of you a Successful, Prosperous, Healthy & Fun-filled 2017!

15 members from IDA attended the International Congress of Dietetics (ICD) 2016 in Granada, Spain. The Indian delegation presented papers, posters, conducted workshops and enthusiastically participated in all the events of the conference. We even managed to dine at an all-vegetarian restaurant in Granada, thanks to our ICDA friends. Check out more details on the ICDA website.

IDACON 2016 saw a record turnout of participants and many first-time activities. IDACON 2017 beckons you to Kolkata in December.

Visits to IDA chapters by the RD Board Chairperson, Ms Salome Benjamin, and the National President, have begun in all earnest. 3 chapters - Delhi, Lucknow and Gujarat have been covered thus far. Visits to chapters have been initiated for the first time in IDA with the intention to meet and interact with the members of each chapter. The meetings give an opportunity for the National President and the RD Board Chairperson to update the members regarding IDA and its various activities (present and future). The face-to-face interaction helps to answer pressing questions from members, related to IDA in general and RD in particular.

We are very excited about a new project that has come our way from the Ministry of Health and Family Welfare, Government of India. IDA will join hands with the ministry to develop a nutrition app which can be used by the general public. A core team has been formed to take this forward.

IDA has developed its own code of ethics and the document is on the website along with the membership form. Let's follow the code and be ethical at all times.

From the Editor's desk

Congratulations to all IDA chapters for the grand success of the Dietetics Day celebrations on 10 January 2017, based on the theme "CONSULT A DIETITIAN - GET FOODUCATED". Ms Sandhya Singh from Bangalore Chapter coined this very trendy slogan.

IDA through this initiative of celebrating Dietetics Day every year across the country has done a remarkable job of unraveling the complexities of nutrition and dietetics for the common man. This year also, we have reports from several chapters showing a very enthusiastic participation of different groups of the community getting "fooducated". Interestingly, the celebrations moved away from clinical/academic settings to book stores, shopping malls, social media and traditional theatre forms. The events also grabbed plenty of media attention with news clips, TV spots etc.

With the increasing number and diversity of activities undertaken by the different chapters, it has become difficult to showcase all of them in a single newsletter and so the Media Committee has taken a decision that in the February - March issue, the coverage will be of Dietetics Day celebrations and IDACON while the September - October issue will carry the Annual Reports of the Chapters.

In the meantime, put on your thinking caps and coin a slogan for the Dietetics Day 2018!

DELHI

The 2017 Dietetics Day's public forum at Delhi was a step towards empowering the common man to achieve better health through nutrition awareness. Although the internet and social media is bursting with all kinds of information about diets, nutrition fads and trends, much of it is not trustworthy. In this context, the dietitian plays a crucial role in guiding people to understand scientific facts in a way that can be applied and practiced with ease. Right at the beginning of the event, it was emphasized by Dr Seema Puri, Vice President, IDA, that a dietitian who is qualified and with good counselling skills can be instrumental in this process. The audience was informed that the IDA website-www.idaindia.com – can help in reaching out to qualified dietitians. The website displays a list of Registered Dietitians (RD) in the country.

The venue for this event was the Oxford Bookstore, Connaught Place, which is located in the heart of Delhi. This popular bookstore, although an unconventional setting for this purpose, proved to be an apt one as it helped to connect with consumers who were keen to know more on the subject of food and its impact on health.

Renowned professionals in the field of dietetics and allied sciences were present at the venue to interact and advice the audience. The experts shared scientific knowledge and data in the realm of nutrition in simple, practical ways that the audience could comprehend and put into practice.

The Chief Guest, Dr M.C Misra with IDA Delhi members at the event

The experts who were available at the event for consultation and discussion were:

Ms Rekha Sharma, Former Chief Dietitian AIIMS
 Dr. Seema Puri, Associate Prof, Institute of Home Economics, DU
 Ms. Neelanjana Singh, President IDA, Delhi Chapter
 Ms Shilpa Thakur, Chief Dietitian, Asian Institute of Medical Sciences
 Ms Ishi Khosla, Consultant and Entrepreneur
 Dr Anita Malhotra, Associate Prof, Laxmibai College, DU
 Ms Ritika Sammadar, Chief Dietitian, Max Hospitals
 Ms Anuja Aggarwal, Pediatric Dietitian AIIMS

Competition for PSG Nursing students was conducted on the theme on "Healthy Eating for a Healthy Living" and prizes were distributed. Display of charts, posters, and certain healthy recipes for the public in the Hospital campus was also done.

Ms Rijuta Pandav, Public Health Consultant FSSAI

The event was inaugurated by Dr. M. C. Misra, Director, AIIMS. In his address, Dr. Misra emphasized the importance of the right diet for all his surgical patients. He said that in the absence of appropriate nutrition, would healing is compromised and even the best surgical procedures can fail. Dr. Misra expressed satisfaction that conducting such programs go a long way to dispel misconceptions about diet and foods.

Ms Sanghamitra Chakraborty, Editor, Reader's Digest spoke about how the media plays a big role in shaping food choices. She talked about the responsibility of the media in bringing forth correct information to its readers.

Q and A session with the experts

Discussions with the experts during the event covered varied topics including practical tips on losing weight, fad diets, choosing healthy oils for cooking and how to identify healthy snacks on the market shelves and more. Food safety issues such as correct procedure to wash vegetables and fruits was also suggested.

The behavior and communication expert addressed the issue of how parents need to be good role model for children. She pointed out that choosing and stocking the right foods (particularly snacks) at home is also critical. Shopping for grocery when hungry is not a good idea as unhealthy food choices are bound to take place in this state.

The event gallery at Oxford Bookstore was jam packed with the audience participating actively in the program of 'Fooducation'. The evening turned out to be both informative and interesting. Myth busting sessions, contests, quiz and games were interspersed between the sessions of expert advice.

The Doordarshan team was present at the event. Quotes from the experts present at the event were telecast on a show 'Good Evening India' on 17th January.

AUTHOR'S GUIDELINES

General guidelines

Articles are accepted on the strict understanding that the material in whole or in part has not been, nor is being, considered for publication elsewhere.

Ethical guidelines

1. Avoiding Plagiarism: The journal may use plagiarism detection software to screen the submissions. If plagiarism is identified, the research article will be rejected.

2. Authorship consent: Corresponding / Submitting author is believed to have had taken prior consent from all authors before submitting a manuscript to the Journal.

3. Acknowledgements: Under acknowledgements please mention contributors to the article other than the authors. Sources of research material should be named along with their location and duly credited.

4. Conflict of Interest: Authors are requested to disclose any possible / applicable conflict of interest that may or may not arise.

5. Funding source: Authors are requested to mention the source of funding for their research while submitting a paper.

6. Appeal of Decision: The Editor's decision on a paper shall be final & binding to all and cannot be appealed.

7. Permissions: If all or parts of previously published illustrations are used, permission must be obtained from the concerned copyright holder(s).

8. Copyright: If the manuscript is accepted, the corresponding / submitting author is required to email a copyright consent to the Journal on behalf of all authors on the paper.

Manuscript preparation guidelines

1. Type of Manuscript: While preparing a manuscript, authors should refer to manuscript preparation guidelines. Generally, we need to adhere to the following guidelines:

a) Original Papers: The paper is generally about 5000 words including tables, figures, references. Typically a table or figure is equivalent to 150 words while a photograph is equivalent to 300 words. The Paper should include: Summary (fewer than 150 words) containing the main results and conclusions; up to 10 keywords that accurately identify the paper's subject, purpose and focus; an Introduction with clear objectives. Materials and Methods with experimental detail, sources of material must be given and statistical methods must be specified by reference, unless non-standard. Results should be presented properly using well-designed tables and/or figures; data should not be repeated in tables & figures, appropriate statistical data should be given. If the editor finds inadequate mathematical treatment of the data, the manuscript will be returned unrefereed. Discussion should cover the implications and consequences and the conclusions should be concise; brief Acknowledgements / References.

b) Review Articles: (fewer than 5000 words): These are concise, critical but constructive and conclusive written for non-specialists.

2. Manuscript format & structure:

a) The language of publication is English. Pls. ensure your paper is clearly written in standard, scientific English language appropriate to your discipline.

b) Standard Usage, Abbreviations and Units: Spelling and hyphenation should conform to The Concise Oxford English Dictionary. Statistics and measurements should always be given in figures, e.g. 10 min., except when the number begins with a sentence. When the number does not refer to a unit of measurement it should be spelt in full unless it is 100 or greater. Abbreviations should be used sparingly and only if a lengthy name or expression is repeated throughout the manuscript, and never in the title. The abbreviated name or expression should be cited in full at first usage, followed by the accepted abbreviation in parentheses.

c) Metric SI units should generally be used

d) Main Text: Text files should be formatted double-spaced with no hyphenation

e) Structure: All manuscripts should include

3. Title Page: The title page should carry an informative title that reflects the content, the names of the authors, and the place(s) where the work was carried out. The full postal address plus email address of the indicated corresponding author must be given. Upto 10 relevant keywords to aid data retrieval and indexing. Title should be in font Arial, size 16 bold. Author's names should be in 12 bold with an estrics on corresponding author's name. Affiliation, address & email id should be written in Arial, 12 italics. Other parts of the manuscript should be in arial 12 unbold, just headings should be in 14 Arial, bold & subheadings in 12 Arial bold. References should be written in 10 Arial Summary (or Abstract), used in the Paper / Review: It should include an introduction of one or two sentences followed by comparative data between treatments where interesting effects were observed, followed by conclusion.

Statistical Methods

Statistical methods used should be defined well supported with references

References

Should follow the Harvard system. References in the text should be cited by the authors' names followed by year of publication, unless there are three or more authors when only the first author's name is quoted followed by et al. e.g. Smith et al. (1999) or Jones and Smith (2000). Add a, b, c etc. to distinguish between two or more references with the same author name and year date (e.g. Jones 1999 a,b). At the end of the paper references should be listed in alphabetical order with the title of the article or book and the title of the journal given in full, as shown:

Gupta, V. & Nagar. R. (2008). Physico - Chemical and acceptability of rabadi (a fermented soya flour product) as affected by cooking and fermentation time. International Journal of Food Science and Technology, 49, 939 - 943. Hawk, B. P., Oser L. B. & Summerson, H.W. (1968). Physiological Chemistry. Pp. 644, 1214. NewYork, NY: McGraw Hill Book Co. Unpublished work must only be cited where necessary, and only in the text. It is essential that all citations and references are carefully checked before submission, as mistakes may cause delays. References to material on the World Wide Web can be given as following: Beckleheimer, J. (1994). Online reference included in article [Internet document] URLhttp://www.sample_url.bibliography/html. Accessed 01/04/2004.

Tables, Figures and Figure Legends

Each table & figure should have proper title & cited in the text with table no. & figure no. Axes on graphs should always be titled and include units where appropriate.

Ethical Guidelines

Please give a statement describing any ethical guidelines under which your research was carried out. Where ethics approval was not required a simple statement that “Ethics approval was not required for this research.” is sufficient. This should be placed below the Acknowledgements section.

Conflict of Interest

You must provide a brief statement describing any potential conflict of interest in the work you are reporting here. If there is no conflict of interest, a simple statement to that effect is sufficient.

Author Response

Please include a detailed point by point response to the decision letter with your re-submission. In order to help editors and reviewers focus on your edits please highlight key changes after acceptance

Upon acceptance, the manuscript will be forwarded to the Production Editor who is responsible for the production of the journal

Before publication, corresponding author will receive article for proof corrections
Proofs must be returned to the Production Editor within three days of receipt
Each article will be given a DOI at the time of publication.

Submission guidelines

The manuscript can be submitted in a single WORD software file by email at contact@researchthrive.com or it can also be submitted by journal's website from submit article tab. <http://www.researchthrive.com>

Pls. select submit article, then select upload your article after choosing your file.

Note:-

1. Any change in the author's designation and affiliation should be notified at the earliest.
2. Please make all the correspondence by email & always quote your manuscript number with your mail

Dear Nidhi:

Good morning and thank you for the email from the Dean.

I am currently Teacher-in-Charge, Chemistry at Miranda House because of which I am also the Superintendent of the Practical Exams.

Due to this I would like to be excused from the work mentioned in the Dean's email. However, I can suggest the name of my colleague, Dr Deepti Rawat, for the moderation of the Chemistry Liberal Option paper. Dr Deepti Rawat is a member of the working group constituted by CIE for the Chemistry Liberal Option paper.

Apologies for any inconvenience I may have caused by not accepting this responsibility.

Warm regards.

Educational Philosophy and Theory - Invitation to Review Manuscript ID EPAT-Apr-2021-0182

Educational Philosophy and Theory <onbehalf@manuscriptcentral.com>

27-May-2021

Dear Nidhi

The above manuscript, entitled "Time We Do Not Have: The Challenges of Silence in an Emancipatory, Conversation-Oriented Curriculum," has been submitted to Educational Philosophy and Theory.

I would be very grateful if you would agree to act as a reviewer for this paper. The abstract appears at the end of this letter.

Please let me know as soon as possible if you will be able to accept my invitation to review. To do this please either click the appropriate link below to automatically register your reply with our online manuscript submission and review system, or e-mail me with your reply.

 PLEASE NOTE: This is a two-step process. After clicking on the link, you will be directed to a webpage to confirm.

Agreed: https://mc.manuscriptcentral.com/epat?URL_MASK=335f8600dfb345d0ba60b1596d787870

Declined: https://mc.manuscriptcentral.com/epat?URL_MASK=2c1b2576edd84ce19ea3192f92b0ec53

Unavailable: https://mc.manuscriptcentral.com/epat?URL_MASK=a2906a9945bd43ba9ec5f7713bcc4882

When you accept the invitation to review this manuscript, you will be notified via e-mail about how to access Manuscript Central, our online manuscript submission and review system. You will then have access to the manuscript and reviewer instructions in your Reviewer Centre.

I realise that our expert reviewers greatly contribute to the high standards of the Journal, and I thank you for considering my request.

We ask that reviews be completed as soon as possible, and at least within two months. Please let me know if you would require additional time to complete your evaluation of the manuscript as it can be extended if necessary. Please note that this journal is now rated as one of the best in its field and consequentially there is a very large number of scholars submitting their work to this journal. This means it is timely for the executive editor, Distinguished Professor Michael A. Peters, to reiterate the request to reviewers to be exacting with their reviews and hence raise the standards for acceptance of manuscripts. If we lower our acceptance rate, we can not only raise the standard of the journal but also reduce our waiting lists for publication of accepted papers. This will mean less frustration for the authors who currently may have to wait well over a year from acceptance to hard copy publication.

Sincerely,

Susanne

MANUSCRIPT DETAILS

TITLE: Time We Do Not Have: The Challenges of Silence in an Emancipatory, Conversation-Oriented Curriculum

ABSTRACT: In this article, I explore my own classroom practices as a teacher of a university course on curriculum in order to investigate the potential emancipatory significance of a Rancièrian conversation-oriented curriculum. To provide a lived account of how emancipatory education with the premise of equality can be embraced, albeit not without challenges, in actual classroom practices, I focus on my most unsuccessful teaching experience—one in which I was routinely confronted by unusually prolonged periods of silence from my students. I first explore how I responded to the challenges which emerged from my commitment to positioning myself and my students as intellectual equals. Then, I attempt to articulate the emancipatory significances of inviting my students to aesthetically attend to the curricular materials, class conversations, and the silence itself. I also reveal how a Rancièrian reading of my practice exposed my own deep ties to an institutionalized distribution of time and helped me to re-imagine the meanings of success and failure in an emancipatory education.

Dear Nidhi: Thank you so much for agreeing to serve as a panellist for the session on "Education in India", December 6, 12-1:30 pm.

We expect 19 ETAs from the U.S. who are currently in India to participate in this program. Please visit <http://usief.org.in/USA-Fellows.aspx> and click the sub-link "Fulbright-Nehru English Teaching Assistantship Program" to view the profiles of these ETAs. I have attached a document which lists the affiliation details of the ETAs.

Please let me know the main points that you will cover in your presentation. You will have around 15-20 minutes for the presentation. It will be helpful if you can share your PPT by December 4. You can choose a theme pertaining to your area of specialization – curriculum, instruction, and teacher education at secondary level. Please highlight the issues, challenges, best practices, success stories. You can include live case studies or your practical experiences in Meghalaya, Rajasthan and Haryana. You will have two co-panellists.

We look forward to interact with you on Dec 6. We will be happy to provide you an honorarium and reimburse your local transportation cost per USIEF norms. Please join us for lunch at USIEF Café at 1:30 pm.

With warm regards,

Sudarsan Dash

Nidhi Gulati is an Assistant Professor in Elementary Education at the University of Delhi. She is also faculty-in-charge at the department that she helped establish. Nidhi's scholarship is situated at the intersection of childhood, cinema studies and development theory. As a 2014 Fulbright-Nehru Doctoral fellow, Nidhi was affiliated to the department of curriculum and instruction at the University of Wisconsin, Madison. She has been associated with education in varying capacities – as a curriculum developer, as a teacher educator and as a researcher. She has been involved in initiatives at the NCTE and MHRD with regard to children's concerns, gender issues and teacher education. Nidhi was on the state review missions to Jharkhand, Karnataka, and Himachal Pradesh. She has developed teacher education curricula for Meghalaya, Rajasthan and Haryana apart from contributing the national curricular framework for teacher education.

Dear Nidhi:

Greetings from USIEF. It was nice talking to you today morning.

USIEF will organize a mid-year workshop for the Fulbright-Nehru English Teaching Assistants (ETAs) from December 5-7 at USIEF House, 12 Hailey Road, New Delhi. We expect 19 ETAs from the U.S. who are currently in India to participate in this program. The Fulbright-Nehru English Teaching Assistantship (ETA) program provides opportunities to the U.S. graduating seniors, recent graduates or master's students who demonstrate a high level of maturity and the initiative to teach English at the secondary level. ETAs generally teach conversational English and some grammar/composition to middle and high school students. The purpose of this workshop is to help these ETAs understand different facets of Indian education system.

As a part of this workshop, we will hold a panel discussion on "Education in India", December 6, 12-1:30 pm.

I invite you to serve as panelists for this session. You can talk for around 15 minutes followed by a discussion. You will have two co-panellists. You can touch upon a theme of your choice pertaining to innovations, issues, and challenges of the Indian education system -- with a particular focus on teacher education at secondary education.

I hope you will agree to help us with the panel discussion. I look forward to receiving a line of confirmation from you. Upon your confirmation, I will be happy to provide you more information about this event.

Dear Ms. Gulati,

Greetings from USIEF! My colleague Dr. Sudarsan Dash recommended me your name for the Fulbright-Nehru application selection process for the U.S. citizens.

For the 2020-21 academic year, USIEF will follow a two-tier review process, wherein applications are first screened by peer review committees in the U.S. and the shortlisted applications are then reviewed by a selection committee in Delhi. This committee nominates the finalists.

I hope it will be possible for you to help us with the review process. We would like to invite you to paper review the applications for the Fulbright-Nehru English Teaching Assistants. The committee will meet on Friday, February 14, 2020. This will involve reading about 55 applications and providing your assessments to USIEF using a rating sheet (provided by USIEF) in advance of the meeting. The review committee will then meet at the USIEF office in New Delhi from 09:00 am to 1:30 pm on February 14. Once we receive your confirmation, we will send out the soft copies of the applications to you on a pen drive or WeTransfer.

I look forward to your confirmation. We will be happy to provide you any additional information.

Thank you for your support for the Fulbright-Nehru program.

Best,

Priyanjana

Dear Prof. Kapur, Ms. Kar, and Ms. Gulati,

Thank you for agreeing to serve as a reviewer for the USIEF Teacher Alumni Award Competition. Your comprehensive and objective review will ensure a fair assessment of the proposals. We have received 14 eligible applications from our teacher development program alumni. These proposals along with a summary are available at the following link: https://drive.google.com/drive/folders/1jkuCjYEGdauscrp9_Zsp_mD2805g7zJt?usp=sharing. The proposals are in PDF format and the summary is on a spreadsheet. Click the above-mentioned link to download. You must have received a link from usief.delhi@usief.org.in also.

Please read each proposal and assign a score using a five-point scale (1-5) on the rating sheet, with 1 as poor and 5 as excellent. Preferably assign whole numbers. You can choose to assign decimal points also. For example, you can assign 3.5, 4.5, 4.75, or 2.25. The rating sheet is attached. Please use it for the scoring and give your short comments (remarks/justifications) for each proposal. The rating sheet is designed to automatically compute your cumulative score for each applicant. You can sort the scores in descending order using the inbuilt filter in the "grand total" column.

On August 10 (10 am – 1 pm), the selection committee will meet virtually to discuss each proposal and select the awardees. The selection committee has three members. Please see the attached committee list. In addition, USIEF staff will be a part of the committee as non-voting members. We will send the virtual meeting log in details to you in early August.

We have a budgetary position to award up to five proposals with Rs. 100,000 each. We also request you to identify a few alternates.

Please return your completed assessments (the rating sheet with scores and comments) to me via email by July 31 at sudarsan@usief.org.in

The review criteria are outlined below and also specified in the attached rating sheet. Please consider these criteria for reviewing the applications. These criteria are not ranked; please consider them equally. In the attached rating sheet you need to assign a score on a scale of 1-5 for each of these five criteria.

Review Criteria

The selection committee will evaluate the proposals based on the following criteria:

- Relevance and sustainable impact on school education
- Addressing the needs of the target group
- Strength and feasibility of project design
- Project sustainability
- Clarity of budget

Note that preferences will be given to projects which are collaborative in nature and cater to the students from underserved communities or traditionally underrepresented groups including but not limited to women, racial, ethnic and religious minorities, and people with different abilities and special needs.

Let me know if you have any questions. Thank you once again for agreeing to be a part of this selection committee. We look forward to interacting with you on August 10.

With warm regards,

Sudarsan Dash

Dear Dr. Gulati,

The School of Education Studies has initiated the Phd Programme in Education last year and the first batch of our PhD students has completed its course work.

I am writing to you to request you to be part of the Research Advisory Committee of Ms. Aditi Sehrwt who wishes to pursue her doctoral research around questions of teacher's autonomy. Given your long standing engagement with the questions of teachers, your guidance will be invaluable to Aditi and us.

I hope that you will accept our request.

Warm regards

Manish

Invitation to membership of the Editorial Team of the journal "Horyzonty Wychowania" (Horizons of Education)

Dear Doctor Nidhi Gulati,

My name is Anna Błasiak and I am the editor-in-chief of the scientific journal "Horyzonty Wychowania" (Horizons of Education) edited by the Faculty of Pedagogy at the Jesuit University Ignatianum in Krakow. We have been publishing continuously and successfully for 20 years. The journal has already developed its place among other periodicals in the academic space.

The first issue of the journal entitled "Man and Pedagogy on the Threshold of the New Millennium" was released in 2002. Currently, "Horyzonty Wychowania" is a quarterly which, according to the decision of the Ministry of Science and Higher Education, received 40 points for a scientific publication.

"Horyzonty Wychowania" publish scientific articles written by scientists from Poland and the world in the field of humanities and social sciences, who care about the authentic upbringing of modern man and looking for the truth about him.

Concerned about the quality and scientific level of the journal, in which the structural reorganization is currently taking place, and above all taking into account Your scientific achievements and academic authority, I am asking for consent to be a member of the Editorial Team of "Horyzonty Wychowania". For my part, I can assure you that the current editorial team is making every effort to make "Horyzonty Wychowania" an important place for exchanging ideas and experiences of scientists from around the world.

I hope and look forward to our fruitful cooperation!
Sincerely Yours,

dr hab. Anna Błasiak, prof. AIK
